

“Building Relationships of Trust and Effectiveness between Families and Educators”

As part of its Alternative Dispute Resolution series for parents, the West SELPA will host a series of conversations involving parents and educators to engage in building relationships of trust and effectiveness between families and educators in service of students.

Presented by
Carlo Rossi, Special Education Advocate

Carlo Rossi has been involved in Special Education advocacy for over thirty-five years. He has spent the last fifteen years as the Independent Child Advocate for Social Advocates for Youth and the Sonoma County (CA) Special Education Local Plan Area. As a seventeen year adjunct faculty member in the Department of Special Education at San Francisco State University, he has previously worked for the California Department of Education, United Cerebral Palsy Association, and Community Alliance for Special Education.

He has been a frequent presenter for the State of California Statewide Dispute Resolution Conference, CADRE and Legal Resources Publications annual conferences. He is passionate about parents and districts working collaboratively and cooperatively together while meeting the needs of students with unique learning challenges.

And
Greg Abell of Sound Options Group, LLC.
Founder and Principal

Interpersonal relationships lie at the core of everything Greg does. He oversees the design and implementation of all services. He believes that everything of importance occurs in relationships. He especially enjoys helping organizations design systems to engage conflict with curiosity and optimism.

Greg's psychology background prepared him for his entry into the emerging field of alternative dispute resolution. Greg has helped individuals and organizations successfully navigate through conflict and change since the 1980s.
