“How to Handle Conflict and High Emotion in an IEP Meeting”

Understanding Enduring Conflict by Greg Abell, Sound Options Group
 The field of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) has grown in response to the relationship with skills and strategies for resolving conflicts. Some conflicts seem destined to continue for a long time. Attendees will learn about the nature of conflict and their own personal ability to deal with it. Strategies for accepting, addressing, and responding to conflict will be presented.

Working Together as a Team in IEP Meetings – Understanding & Working with High Emotion by Nina Meierding, MS, JD.
 This training will explore practical techniques in dealing with high emotion (frustration, anger and fear). We will explore the many causes of these emotions and learn cultural differences and how they are expressed. The goal of the workshop is not to try to eliminate emotions from meetings, but to learn how to create a collaborative environment when strong feelings are present – so the focus remains on the child.

Intended audience: Special education teachers, School Psychologists, Behavior Specialists, Principals, Administrators and related service providers.

Location:
 Woodcrest Junior High School
 2725 South Campus
 Ontario, CA 91761

Fee: $50 (WESELPA 9 serviced districts) includes lunch
Fee: $75 (out of area districts) includes lunch
